The second in a series of anniversary yearbooks that commemorate the history, establishment, growth and development of the organization founded by Mary Lena Lewis Tate. This book focuses on some of the bishops who supported Tate's works. Tate established the Church of the Living God, the Pillar and Ground of the Truth, Inc. in 1903. Tate's life is significant because the plight and fight of women in their thrust to gain full status as productive and recognized citizens in all aspects of our world society is an unfinished agenda. The accomplishment of this person is just one among many milestones, which must be recognized as significant in the struggles of women. The struggle in this particular field—the ministry—has gained momentum and is now being waged in many of the larger and more traditional churches.
